

Clinical Educator Bootcamp – Elevate Your Teaching at UC San Diego School of Medicine!

Wednesday, September 30, 2026
5:30 PM–7:30 PM PT | Zoom Meeting

Are you a new faculty member ready to make your mark as an educator at UC San Diego School of Medicine? Join us for this interactive, high-impact bootcamp designed specifically for MD/DO/PhD clinician educators who have joined UC San Diego within the past two years.

You'll gain practical tools and insider knowledge to help you confidently engage in teaching across UC San Diego's rich and diverse clinical learning environment.

Topics will include:

- An Overview of Teaching Opportunities at UC San Diego School of Medicine across the entire teaching spectrum, including: Undergraduate Medical Education (UME), Graduate Medical Education (GME) and Continuing Professional Development (CPD). As well as resources to assist with teaching and learning. Presented by Dr. Charlie Goldberg
- Tips for Teaching in the Hospital - Presented by Dr. Dan Crouch, Program Director Pulmonary Critical Care Medicine
- Tips for Teaching in the Clinic – Presented by Dr. Trish Santos, Program Director Endocrinology Fellowship
- How to Deliver Everyday Feedback in Today's Learning Environment – Presented by Dr. Charlie Goldberg

Beyond skill development, this is also a unique chance to connect with colleagues and join the thriving UC San Diego School of Medicine educator community.
