

Faculty Development Workshop for Preclinical Course Leaders and Educators

Friday, September 11 | 8–1 PM | MET Learning Center Rm 145

We're pleased to announce UCSD's 2nd annual Faculty Development session specifically focused on preclinical course leaders and educators. This will occur on the SOM campus in MET LC Rm 145 - Friday, September 11th, 8am-1pm.

The focus will be on sharing best practices in preclinical education as well as novel approaches to teaching and learning. Topics include:

- Welcome, Updates on Faculty Development Opportunities – Charlie Goldberg, MD
- Editing educational videos for learner engagement (hands-on Workshop), Mitch Dandignac, PhD; Director Academic Support, UCSD SOM
- Approaches to maintaining student engagement beyond focus on Step 1 – Dena Rifkin MD and Erin Reid MD
- Updates on Digital Accessibility and Changes in Advancement Policies – Sean Evans, MD
- Leveraging AI in the service of teaching and learning, Paul Hadjiperis, EdD; UCSD's Teaching and Learning Commons
- Managing Generational Shifts in the Work Place – Bruce Tulgan JD, Rainmaker Thinking

Coffee, breakfast snacks and lunch will be provided.

CME credit will be available to participants.

Please RSVP via this link by August 1:

https://ucsd.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_cAQIAB6BALxnPVk

Additional information to follow as the date approaches.

Questions? cggoldberg@health.ucsd.edu

Looking forward to seeing you in September!

Charlie Goldberg, MD

Executive Director Faculty Development UCSD SOM

Sponsored by the UC San Diego School of Medicine Office of Faculty Development.