"Wilderness is not a luxury but a necessity of the human spirit." Edward Abbey

Overview:

The UCSD Wilderness Medicine Fellowship is a premier fellowship program for emergency physicians to train in this dynamic multidisciplinary specialty. San Diego offers a complete array of environmental exposures - desert, ocean, rivers, mountains, international, while having ties to disaster relief, aerospace and military medicine, and travel and tropical medicine. Fellows at UCSD will gain experience to become educators and leaders in Wilderness Medicine. The UCSD Department of Emergency Medicine has numerous other existing fellowship programs with whom we collaborate to provide unique opportunities for exposure to and participation in areas of wilderness and austere medicine.
