

Department of Orthopaedic Surgery
Resident Eligibility Criteria / Selection Process Policy

The Department of Orthopaedic Surgery follows the University policy for eligibility criteria and selection process.

Applicants are selected from among eligible applicants on the basis of their preparedness and ability to benefit from the Orthopaedic Residency Training Program. Aptitude, academic credentials, personal characteristics, and ability to communicate are considered in the selection. The Department of Orthopaedic Surgery does not discriminate with regard to sex, race, age, religion, color, national origin, disability or veteran status. Eligibility shall be determined according to the ACGME requirements.